

Fade To Light

Jamie Lipe

Gone are the days you prayed would come back
And replaced by the sound of sighing and pain now

Don't grow weary now
The fight is worth it
One step at a time will lead you out into the open

As you exhale your longing just long enough to taste hope on your lips
That someone much greater is hearing you that bled your pain so you could live

Just believe in the One who is freedom and life
And you will see your darkest days fade to light
Just believe
Just believe
